COLONIAL PROGRESS

There is a selfish consolation in misery to know that others are worse off than ourselves. There is something that always appeals to our natural egotism in the thought that we are better off than somebody else. So much indeed, is human nature addicted to this re lative measurement of prosperity, that, however well provided we may be, however free from the pange of poverty or the decimation of disease, our happiness and comfort are far from complete so long as our neighbors are more successful than ourselves. All this is no doubt, foolish as well as unchristian; but it is very human. We see evidences of it almost every day, even in Victoria. Talk of our agricultural resources and we shall hear a dozen declaim at once that they are nothing like those of Canada; mention our Nanaim coal, and we are reminded immediately that it is nothing like so good as that obtained in England; allude to the gold fields of either colony, and we are told that they are much inferior to the mines of California or 'Aus. tralia. It matters not that we can raise as fine wheat as any in the world, and about the best potatoes that can be obtained ; that our coal is abundant and beginning to form a very valuable export; that our gold mines for the number of miners at work, are actually more productive than those elsewherethere is still a large element in our commu nity unsatisfied and prone to grumble. . We are glad, therefore, to be able to inform this class that we are not, after all, the least enterprising or the least prosperous of the Brit-We have all heard of the remarkable pro gress of Queensland, how its population doubled in almost a couple of years, and its revenue increased in a similar proportion Well, we have just received a letter from a resident of this city, written by a gentleman who left here a year or two ago and settled in Brisbane, the capital of the flourishing colony just named. "I have been here. writes the correspondent, " since the 29th of February, and find this colony a 'regula sell,' and my friends on the Melbourne side write me that that colony has gone back greatly since I left it five years ago. I cannot advise you to come this way. Land here is rest and worst I ever saw. Whea will not grow nor cotton come to perfection Sugar, grapes, and pine apples are the only articles that really do well. Flour is now 70s. ($14) per barrel; bread 4d. (8c.) per lb. potatoes 10s. per cwt. (about 2%c. per lb.;) wont grow, nor will currents, gooseberries, or any fruit of that class." The correspondent acknowledges that with all the increase of a much more enterprising and more attractive place, and regrets be ever left it. In one of the Brisbane papers we find him writing to the effect that he was astonished to discover that in that city, with a population of 14,000 inhabitants, there were neither gas works nor 4000 inhabitants, private enterprise had fur-water supplies, although in the town he had left (Victoria) where there were no more than vision market does not differ very much from our own, except in the article of flesh meat which, on any part of the Australian continent, is much cheaper than it is on the Pacinic-There is one thing, however, to which we would wish to direct the attention of our population, and it is this. With a poorer soil, less diversified resources, and almost a torrid clime, Queensland has risen in a few years from a struggling colony like our own, to one with a population of about 70,000 people and a revenue of several hundred thousand pounds. This no doubt reflects great credit on the intelligence of the Government; but it appears withal that the is much cheaper than it is on the Pacific. immigrant than Vancouver Island. When we go to the celebrated Australian colony of Victoria, we find with all the wealth of the country-the immense revenue and the large population—that things are no better—that in fact dullness and stagnation everywhere stare the new-comer in the face. If we turn our attention to more contiguous countries, we find that California is overwhelmed with a financial panic, resulting from an undue and unhealthy speculation, and that misery, and even destitution, are no uncommon sojourners in that land of silver "feet." We thave grumbling at home, and dismal prophets enough, the was communication from the accused with reference to Sheppard's hours; I never received the was prosperity itself. We are gradually pushing our way through the era of Schilden prices and Unpoint schemes. Everything is assuming a more stable condition. It is natural that-real estate after being rathed up of late beyond all reason, should come down to a more healthy figure, that eur. mines, on account of the great delays and stoppages of work in Cariboo, should come down to a more healthy figure, that eur. mines, on account of the great delays and stoppages of work in Cariboo, should some down to a more healthy faure, that eur. mines, on account of the great delays and stoppages of work in Cariboo, should some box fluth in the country. Our industrial elements are slowly but surely coming into play. If the county for one a better foundation in the country, Our industrial elements are slowly but surely coming into play. If the census were taken and the employments of the people given, it would be seen what great comparative striked we have made the last three years. The next three years, if we have anything like viger in our Legislation, will place us on a footing that will actorial vero our most sanguine inhabitants. They great evil in small communities like our own, built up by the excitement of a gold fever, is that fine are applied to be slated beyond reason at every "sput" of good fortune and become in an equal degree depressed at every reverse. If they could only see that there must necessarily be upand downs—actions and reactions—in all golden countries; but that there is a time of gold fever, is that fine are a part to be slated beyond reason at every "sput" of good fortune and become in an equal degree depressed at every reverse. If they could only see that three must necessarily be upand downs—actions and reactions—in all golden countries; but that there is a time foot-tile, when the continuity is the great evil in the proper time. The same time are applied to the at home, and dismal prophets enough,; but when compared with many other new countries we are prosperity itself. We are

COURT OF ASSIZE.

Nov. 21, 1864. THE SOUAW DANCE HOUSE.

THE SQUAW DANCE HOUSE.

The case of Charles King and C. Solberg, indicted for keeping a disorderly house in Johnson ttreet, came up for the final decision of the Court. Mr. Ring in an able speech pleaded in mitigation of the sentence. He alluded to the wording of the verdict, and said that the Jury had somewhat travelled out of their province in pronouncing au assaid that the Jury had somewhat travelled out of their province in pronouncing an assemblage of squaws a nuisance. A similar congregation of native women would be found on the Race Course at Beacon Hill, or in a lecture room, or in fact at any public place of amusement, there is no law against it. The redict could not go the length of directing that there should be no more dancing. He therefore was of opinion that full justice would be meeted if the defendants undertook to conduct the house in question in as orderly conduct the house in question in as orderly manner as possible, using every exertion their power to prevent obscenity and pro-in their power to prevent obscenity and pro-finity of language.

The Attorney General argued that all the elequence of the learned gentleman could not interfere with the fact that the house had been condemned as a public nuisance, and he therefore felt it his duty to press upon the Court the necessity of preventing the prison-ers garrying on such a business for the future.

the matter of L. J. Sneppard, of the conten-erate Saloon. The acting Attorney General, instructed by the Crown solicitor, Mr. John Copland, appeared for the prosecution. Mr. McCreight, aided by Messrs. Pearkes and Green defended the prisoner, who pleaded McCreight, aided by Messrs. Fearkes and Green defended the prisoner, who pleaded not guilty.

The following jury was empannelled:—
Thos. Baker, Chas. Hayward, Chas. Moss. Chas. King, T. L. Fawcett, W. Balls, John Thompson, W. Gibson, Hy. Mansell, Eli Harrison, Geo. Martin, Wm. Stapleton. Eli Harrison was appointed foreman.

The Attorney General in opening the proceedings called upon the jury to dismiss from their minds all previous bias; it was a very delicate investigation, and the production of adequate evidence was necessarily surrounded with much difficulty, but he should be in a with much difficulty, but he should be in a position to prove by unimpeachable witnesses that the prisoner must have been aware that illegal practice existed, while he d heve detected if he had thought her; but it will be testified on oath that an il could proper; but it will be testified on oath that a certain sum or sums of money were actu-ally received by the accused, for the nileged purpose, distinctly understood by both par-ties, to ensure the authorities overlooking the es, to ensure the authorities overlooking the ractices that were carried on in Sheppard's

The learned counsel then proceeded in a lucid manner to narrate the history of the circumstances which led to the investigation, a full report of which has already been inserted in our columns. He explained at some length that Shapard, although coming forward as an informer, was actuated by a desire to see justice done to Wilmer, whom he left had been wronged by his dismissal from the force. The nase did not rest upon the testimony of Shapard alone, the allegations would be borne out by the frequent admissions of the prisoner himself, who had nissions of the prisoner himself, who had stated from time to time, that the practices ere to be winked at, with the consent of he Chief Commissioner. It would be abundantly shown that the existence of gambling nouses was a matter of notorious publicity, and that Smith had constantly instructed his and that Smith had constantly instructed his subordinates to make no movement with the view of suppressing them.

L. J. Sheppard, sworn.—I keep the Confederate Saloon; I have a partner in the establishment; in the autumi of last year, as well as in October and December, I had sevential steps of the prisoner; I should be prisoner; I should be suppressed to the pris well as in October and December; I also ald think they took place in November; they were generally in Smith's private room over the Polico office; I then told him I had some rooms unoccupied which some gamblers had applied for, and that they told me it was possible to make some arrangements with Mr. Smith; I said if such was the case I should like the coordinate some such arrangements. like to conclude some such arrangements, but that I did not know exactly how much I could pay; Smith said he could tell me what the other houses paid, mentioning the Occidental and the Fashion, for which he said he received $5 a night; I told him that to make a beginning I would pay him $20 per week, and that I would increase the amount subsequently in proportion as I could afford it; I handed him a $20 piece, which he accepted; I alterwards paid him $10 a week for several weeks; Townsend, my partner, made the conclude some such arrangements ral weeks; Townsend, my partner, made the entries; he keeps the books; the entries nissiouer of Police; I produc of Smith's appointment as Acting Super-intendent; He was sworn in a special con-stable, I had good recommendations with him; I considered him a superior officer, and him; I considered him a superior officer, and he was entrusted with private detective duties; He was subsequently promoted to be sergeant, and then to his present position; He succeeded his predecessor in about 1859; I can't tax my memory precisely, but I should say he was duly sworn in in the usual manner; In November last, he was generally superintending the force, there were no definite instructions as to the disposal of his time, unless on special occasions. It would be a constable's duty to swear an information in the event of a gambling hous being detected; I have only heard of gambling by common report; I have never had specific communication from the accused with refercommunication from the accused with refer-ence to Sheppard's house; I never received a farthing from Smith; It was not his place

—I am sworn to tell the whole truth and I am very anxious that the ends of justice shall not be defeated; I have some papers here which may appertain to Blake and Smith and which have been alleged to have been suppressed. A long discussion here ensued between the learned counsel as to the relevancy of the documents, and it was decided that they were not of sufficient importance to be read

ance to be read

The Court here adjourned for half an hour.

AFTERNOON SITTING. L. J. Sheppard, cross-examined—I was a special constable once, but never in the police force; I made a statement on the preiliminary enquiry, and I signed a paper the effect that I had not given any money Mr. Smith. This verbal statement, the pu Mr. Smith. This verbal statement, the purport of which is in the paper, is untrue; I never changed my mind as to the necessity of telling the truth under oath; I did not wish to convict Smith, so long as the evidence was merely verbal; I still occupy the Confederate Saloon; no gambling goes on dence was merely verbal; I still occupy the Confederate Saloon; no gambling goes on there at present; I do not hold the premises under Mr. Copland.

By the jury—My reason for the discrepancy in the testimony was that officers were standing by who could have arrested me if I had inculpated myself.

Ex Sergeant Hill, swon—I was in the police from May, 1863, to the end of last July; Last winter, I had a conversation in October about the gambling house; I menticned there was gambling going on at carrying on such a business for the future.

His Honor however determined to suspend the judgment for a certain time, to afford the defendants an opportunity of abating the said nuisance. He should inflict a merely nominal punishment; he would order the prisoners to enter into their own security in the sum of £50 each, and to provide twe additional sureties of £50 respectively to appear for sentence if required bereafter.

THE CHARGE AGAINST SUPERINTENDANT SAITH.

Horace Smith was arraigned upon an indictment of receiving certain bribes in the execution of his duty as police constable, in order to permit gambling, more especially in the matter of L. J. Sheppard, of the Confederate Saloon. The acting Attorney General, instructed by the Crown solicitor, Mr. John to Copland, appeared for the prosecution. Mr. Copland, appeared for the prosecution. Mr. Pambetton to icned there was gambling going on at Keenans, Occidental, Bank Exchange and Confederate Saloon; When I reported it to him, he replied that I was not to interfere;

good conduct for two years.

Cross-examined—I have been told in a general way by Mr. Pemberton to look after these gambling houses; He spoke to me about ferreting out facts concerning these houses; I reported to him gambling going on in Keenan's; I made no written report, I only mentioned Keenan's; I said gambling was going on there all night: all reports go through the Superintendent; I have been repeatedly blamed, and once turned out of the office, for going direct to the Commissioner; Mr. Pemberton asked me to seek out all I could clicit about these houses, but it was to be without the cognizance of Mr. Smith; Pemberton asid it was become quite it was to be without the cognizance of Mr. Smith; Pemberton said it was become quite notorious that black mail was being levied, and that something must be done in the matter; in Smith's absence, although I had not the general supervision, I felt that my responsibilities were increased; I instituted no proceedings against this house; I was not able to do so; I did not try; Mr. Whittaker, especially during the latter part of the time, took most of the power out of my hands; I am not aware that Mr. Pemberton expressed a wish for me to look especially after these am not aware that Mr. Pemberton expressed a wish for me to look especially after these houses in contemplation of Mr. Smith's absence; I don't want to go into the force now; I may have once requested Mr. Smith to use his influence to get me taken on again. Re examined—The reason why I did not ferret out these matters as suggested, was that I had clear orders from the Superintendent not to do so.

ng Mr. Smith's absence, I therefore had the or. lege of entering what I liked. Harry Wilmer, examined by the jury—I did not make the charges before I left the force. ecause I had no aurhority to back them up I was told publicly and privately by Mr.Sm that any officer bringing a charge against his superior and not proved would be dis-missed. I wrote to the Governor and to d him that charges had been made against Blake, who was suspended and removed to Esquimalt, also that the facts were so scan-Esquimalt, also that the facts were so scan-dalous that they were suppressed. I resigned my position in the force, Mr. Smith having made frivolous complaints against me.

Alfred Townsend sworn—I am a partner and book-keeker in the firm of Shapard & Townsend; I made an entry in a memoran-dum book of $20; I made that entry because I paid the money; it is entered as a ruffle; I suggested that myself; there is no other entry in that month, but there is another in De ry in that month, but there is another in De-ember for the same purpose. Cross-examined by Mr. McCreight—I gave he $20 to Mr. Shapard; he told me it was whole of the expenditure and receipts of the house.

George Blake sworn—I have been a Police Sergeant since 59. In the fall of '62 I had a conversation with Mr. Smith about gambling, I reported the Fashion and Bank Exchange; he told me to take no notice of it; I had conversation with him afterwards on the subject; he said Governor Douglas and Mr. Pemberton were perfectly aware of what was going on; that miners would gamble, mining itself being a sort of gambling, and if they could not do it here they would gedles where and take so much money out of the country, and that they did not therefore wish them to be interfered with, but that so much money would be paid for keeping a lookout round the premises, and that Mr. Pemberton was willing that we should share it, provided he had his share (laughter).

Cross-examined by Mr. McCreight—I have constructed on and they would have constructed on and they would have constructed on and they would have not be interfered with. Mr. McCreight—I have constructed on and they would have constructed on and they would have not be carried on interfered dount receipts of the houses where the gambling was alleged to have taken place, and concluded his remarks by calling upon the jury to find the tained evidence of the accomplices inadmissible, and the whole affair an unwarrantable at tempt after long silence to inculpate a superior officer in their malpractices, and to throw dirt upon a still higher officer, who was estemed and respected by the entire communities. That there was no evidence whatever of the alleged gambling.

His Honor, in charging the Jury, said that the defendant was charged with receiving certain sums of money of $20 and $10 from one Lonis J. Shapard, as bribes, for the purpose of suffaring gambling and unlawful sames to be carried on, and they would have willing that we should share it, provided he had his share (laughter).

Cross-examined by Mr. McCreight—I have been suspended; am suspended now; have been humbingged, as I call it, so often that cannot be particular about dates; I was reduced once and a man was placed in my position; when he was found drunk and incapable I was reinstated; I have been reduced suspended, and allowed once to resign; I have been fined and reprimanded, but perhaps not so often in proportion as other officers; I made no charge against these gambling houses as I thought they would be protected by the Government; I have asked Mr. Pemberton during the Superintendent's absence whether I should take charge, and he hummed and ha'd about it, and eaid. Do your duty Serguant; I thought the gambling was an understood thing; both Taylor and myself were removed from the beat where it was going on; I have made reports to Mr. Pemberton and have heard him say that there were things going on in the Police which the public had no right to know; this was in consequence of a long rigmarole that had appeared in the paper about charges against one of the Police force, which he said I had something to do with, and I now state I never that I have reached the said something to do with, and I now state I never that I had something to do with, and I now state I never that I had something to do with, and I now state I never that I have reached and the case was one which came home to affairs discreditable to the city. The Jury must well weight the evidence and circumstances and find accordingly.

The jury retired for several bours, but were unable to arrive at a verdict, and they were unable to arrive at a verdict, and they were unable to arrive at a verdict, and they were unable to arrive at a verdict, and they were unable to arrive at a verdict, and they were unable to arrive at a verdict, and they were unable to arrive at a verdict, and they were unable to arrive at a verdict, and they were unable to arrive at a verdict, and they were unable to arrive at a v month ago, I had conversations with Mr-Smith about gambling. He told me on the two first occasions when the police were going up and down to let the folks know; the last occasion was when the gunboat returned, I then told him there was going to be a break made; he told me to be on the guard and keep a sharp look out. I had $10 from him once, I suppose for keeping a good look out. LIMITED.

and not outsiders to go and lodge complaints; I once tried to bring a former Superintendent to justice; The whole force was sacked; I was reduced from a Sergeant (sensation). To the Jury—That was Mr. Bayley, who swindled the Government and us. The Sergeant places the men on their beats by order of the Superintendent; I was removed to the beat above Broad street, and was told not to come lower down.

Alex. B. MacCready was called to prove that the original notice referred to by Sergt.

Sergt. Blake, recalled—Swore to the copy produced, which read as follows: NOTICE. Any officer employed in the Police or Prison lepartments who shall in any way betray the condence reposed in him, will be instantly dismissed om the service.

By order of the Police Commissioner.

This concluded the case for the prosecuon. Mr. McCreight then made an elaborate and able address to the jury, in which he severely stigmatised the evidence and character of the principal witnesses for the Crown, who were principal witnesses for the Crown, who were to all intents and purposes accomplices, and who after the lapse of years, without having over made a complaint, now came forward and made a dead set at their superior officer, in order to get him out of the way, and did not stop there, but were bold enough to assail Mr. Pemberton himself. He argued that the case against the accused rested solely upon the evidence of Shapard, and he asked the jury before receiving his evidence to compate what that witness had said in the Police office and what he stated on oath. He believed that nothing would ever have been heard of this had it not been for the extraordinary Proclamation, which the learned counsel con-Proclamation, which the learned counsel con-lemned as a most unusual and dangerous

The Altorney General objected to any remove years to be paid to Mr. Smith for allowing gambling; the other payment was for the same purpose; I have three entries; if Mr. Shapard had drawn the money for his own private account it would not have appeared in this book; they are business entries; I did not see the money paid to Mr. Smith but I have known Mr. Shapard for five years and believe that he always does what he says with money he gets; the entries in the rough book were copied at the end of the month into the book (produced) which shows the whole of the expenditure and receipts of the house. ne, likely to produce mischievous results.

The Freedmen's Association on the Pacific is at present in Victoria for the purpose of bringing the charitable nature of the Association before the public. The reverend gentleman intends, we believe, to introduce the matter by a lecture. At present it is said there are upwards of 700,000 slaves who have escaped from the South, but many of them as might be expected are suffering the most unheard of destitution. The Northern Government with the Association is need for the extrement of the Association and attend to. The work of the Association can attend to. The work of the Association can attend to. The work of the Association is none of humanity, and appeals to men of every class, opinion and nationality. The following is a brief description of the exodus of slaves on Sherman's advance: "Hundreds of the children were literally naked. The larger number of the wond had a dress of some sort, but as to other clothing it wasnot. These dresses were made of pieces of old tents, others of the hast remnats of a slave's wardrobe that had not been replenished for three years. The men had clothing made of pieces of old tents, others of the last remnates of a slave's wardrobe that had not been replenished for three years. The men had clothing made of pieces of old carpeting, ragged horse-blankets, sacking for bedding, cetton, etc. Hats, caps and bonnets were a uriosity to them. Beats and shoes had long been forgotten. Stockings a negative quantity. In this instance, as at every great movement of our army, we bring in ragged, destitute, suffering, starving, sick, wretched, naked negroes."

The House went into committee on this question, Mr. Bayley in the chair.

Mr. Duncan considered the matter had been already amply discussed, and he thought the business of the day should be proceeded Mr. Young took a somewhat similar view

Dr. Tolmie thought that when there was so large a sum as a million of dollars in question (laughter) the members should look upon the matter as one of greater importance. Mr. Young begged leave to offer the fol-

Dr. Dickson would like to know if the Dr. Dickson would like to know it the present resolutions were in order until the other resolution and amendments were dis-posed of?

After some little discussion, Mr. Young's resolutions were taken up in preference to the others.

Dr. Tolmie hoped that the House would not stultify itself by allowing some portions of the resolutions which were nothing better than a suppressio veri to pass. There had been a member of the Colonial office who no doubt at one time held the view that the no doubt at one time neld the view that the Company had no right anterior to the grant, but he adopted a different opinion afterwards, when he agreed to the arbitration, So far from the possessory rights being surreptitiously introduced as mentioned in the resolutions they were kept before the Home Government from the very first. He would not attempt to contest the palm of vituperation with the mover of the resolutions; but he characterised the resolution as disgraceful to the House.

Mr. Young denied that he had wilfully made any suppresso veri. If there was any

IODINE WATER.

ODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMportant discovery of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a semedial agent. Iodine has been considered the nost useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and hysicians have investigated its effects upon the numan system. It is to act upon the HEART, HEART, LIVER, KIDNEVS, DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDU-LAR SYSTEM, and to have great control over SCROPULOUS AFFECTIONS.

SCHOPTULOUS AFFECT.

Notwithstanding the zoal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless, until Dr. Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after vears of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve. PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Professor Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see American Medical Monthly, July 6, 1856, page 75.)

Rev. O. W. Briggs, Superintendent of the National Freedmen's Association on the Pacific is at present is Victoria for the purpose of bringing the charitable nature of the Association before the public. The revered gentleman intends, we believe, to introduce the matter by a lecture. At present it is said three are upwards of 700,000 slaves who have escaped from the South, but many of them as might be expected are suffering the most unheard of destitution. The Northern Government with the Association gives them what work it can, by way of unloading transports, &c., places them on plantations, and gives them the benefit of education, but the advance of the Union armies has drawn more slaves from the South than the Government er the Association is one of humanity, and appeals to men of every class, opinion and nationality. The following is a brief description of the exodus of slaves on Sherman's advance: "Hundreds of the children were literally naked. The larger number of the woman had a dress of some sort, but as to other clothing it was not. These dresses were made of pieces of old tents, others of the last remnants of a slave's wardrobe that had not been replenished for three years. The men had clothing made of pieces of old carpeting, ranged horse-blankets, sacking for bedding, and to the Hudson Bay Company, in 1849, without any reservation whatever, for possessory rights of the said company, or of any without any reservation whatever, for possessory rights of the said company, or of any without any reservation whatever, for possessory rights of the said company, or of any without any reservation whatever, for possessory rights of the said company, or of any without any reservation whatever, for possessory rights of the said company, or of any without any reservation whatever, for possessory rights and to the Hudson Bay Company, and to National Freedmen's Association on the Pacific is at present in Victoria for the purpose made of pieces of old tents, others of the last remnants of a slave's wardrobe that had not been replenished for three years. Boots and shoes had long been forgotten. Stockings a negative quantity. In this instance, as at every great movement of our army, we bring in ragged, destitute, suffering, starving, sick, wretched, naked negroes."

The Kram Engagement—The Sub-committee met yestreday at Mr. Cruickshank's office and passed the following resolutions.

That in answer to all questions asked as to seats, the public be informed that no particular seats can be at present secured by any one, but only the locality named; and that in apportioning the seats becrafter, no that in apportioning the seats becrafter, no the dress circle and the orchestra chairs, a limited number of names will be taken, and a priority of choice in seats drawn for, of which due notice will be given.

There is no surer sign of deterioration of the vitat fluids, and of a general debilitated condition of the system, than the occurrence and persistence of ulcers in various parts of the body. # ODINE WATER IS THE MOST IM-

TODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMportant discovery of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its irfluence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medico, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the human system. It is to act upon the

LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM, and to have great control over SCHOPPLLOUS AFFECTIONS.

NOIMOFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless, until Dr. Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after vears of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER

PURE RODING IN PURE WATER without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Professor Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Facuity that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see American Medical Monthly, July 5, 1896, page 76.) practitioners (see American accurate monary, 6, 1896, page 76.)
This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver, and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, &c.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increasing the appetite. In cases of Dyspepsia, Emaciation and Debility an increasing nutritation of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; bitherty pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and forid. Full directions accompany each botic. Sold by all Druggists. Price 31 per bottle.
